REVISED EDITION

I Don't Know The Answer

Let's Figure Out Together Why People Leave

Why does bullying exist?

How physical proximity affects our behavior

Milgram, S. (1965). Some Conditions of Obedience and Disobedience to Authority. Human Relations, 18(1), 57–76. <https://doi.org/10.1177/001872676501800105>

The modern world makes it even worse

In digital verse, it seems that physical proximity to the victim is non-existent

Conscious Bully

Physical. Explicit. Mean.

Unconscious Bully

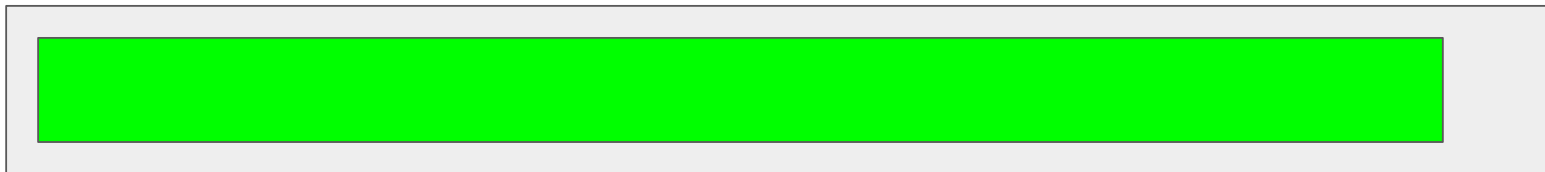

Not every victim feels able to speak up or address it.

Unconscious bullying is so much harder to detect because,
most of the time, only the victim feels it.

- An old member dismissing newcomers without realizing the effect
- Making jokes that repeatedly target the same person
- Using an intimidating tone because “that's how we've always talked”
- Automatically giving more respect to established members and ignoring newcomers
- Using overused toxic phrases like “jangan gampang baperan ” or “ ya maklumlah kita kan — ”,
to dismiss someone's feelings.
- You name it. The list could be endless.

Bapermeter

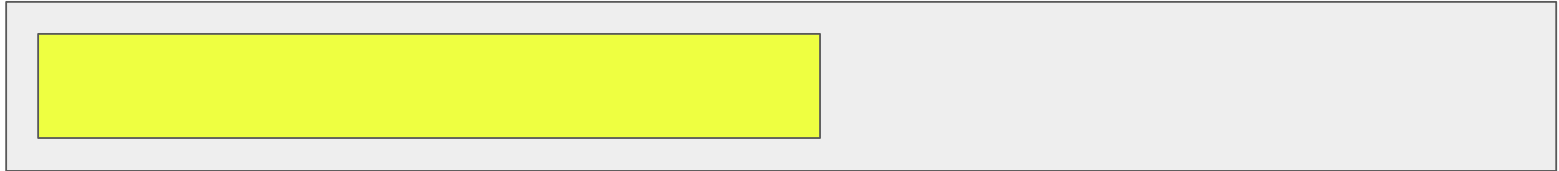

Unscientific instrument to measure how baperan you are

Result: Selowww broda, chill...

Bapermeter

Unscientific instrument to measure how baperan you are

Result: A very very normal person like you (maybe)

Push right for incivility

Push left for respectfulness toward everyone

Is Code of Conduct the Answer?

Strict

Loose

This community and the events held within it are dedicated to providing a harassment-free shared experience for everyone, regardless of sex, gender identity and expression, age, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, body size, race, ethnicity, religion (or lack of it), political views, or technology choices. We do not tolerate harassment of individuals on any of these grounds in any form, whether at community or event venues or in posts on social media and other online media. Individuals who break these rules may be sanctioned or expelled from the community or event without a refund (if any), at the discretion of the community organizers.

CoC

CoC + Governance / Enforcement

Code of Conduct does help to some degree, but?

The Art of Abusing Code of Conduct

Community without Code of Conduct?

Actually, they are exist and striving

Sorry guys,

it turns out that CoC is not the silver bullet.

So, can Meritocracy solve this?

Seniority over merit is very contagious

Bapermeter is a fiction, no one can measure it.

Only God knows

The idea is to push more to left assuming that everyone has low bar,

then measure the impact.

Fake It Till You Make It

Faking ourselves is not a solution either

A healthy community should be a place where we can be ourselves, without having to constantly hide or change who we are to fit in.

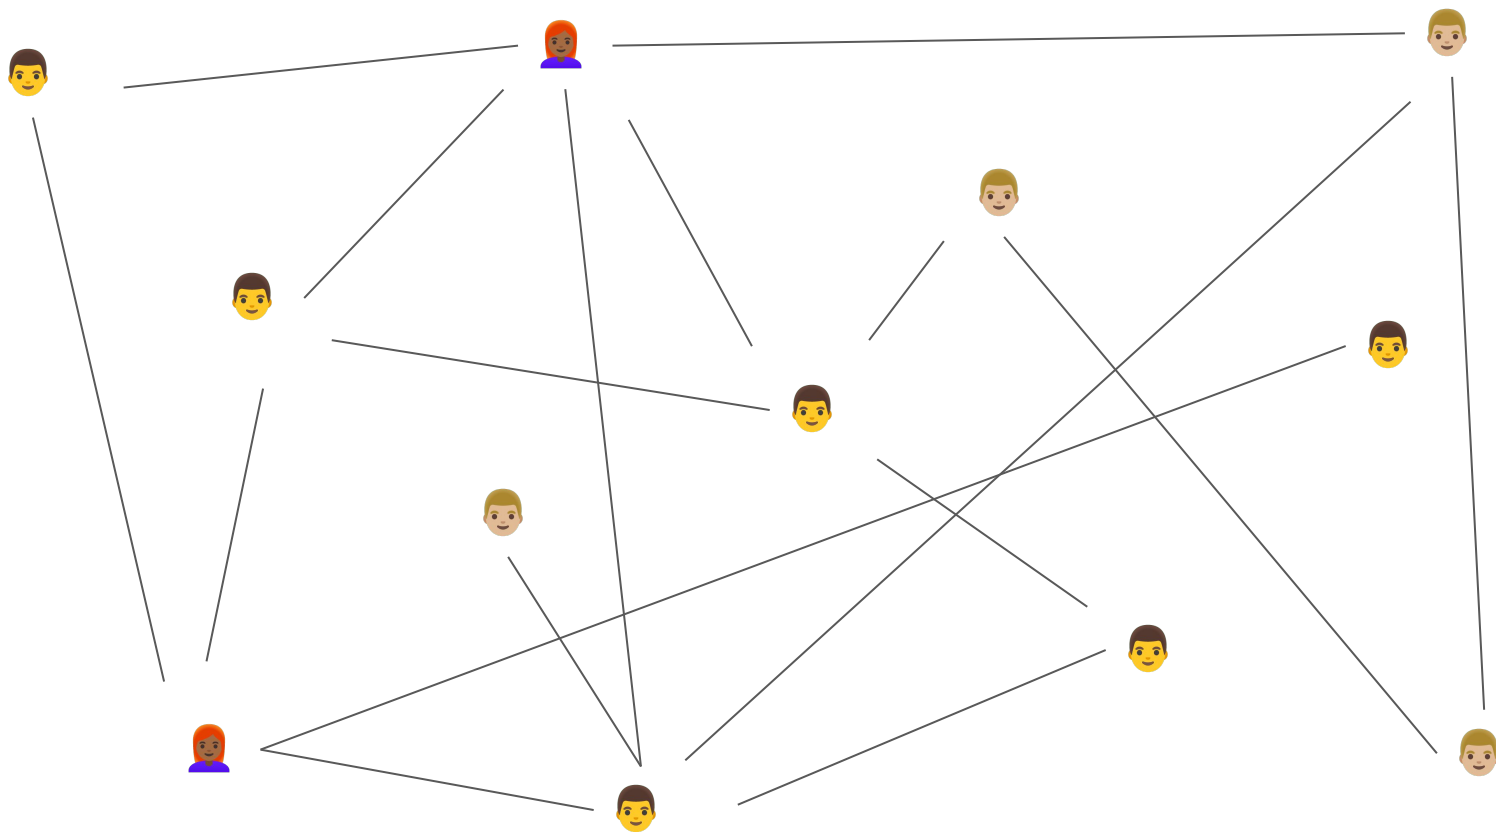

So, no solution?

More People Need to Speak Up

We need more people to speak up, listen, and take actions to make our communities better.

Let's discuss!
